THE PESTS OF IMMIGRATION.

It has already been stated in the Gazette that Senator Palmer of Michigan has introduced a bill in the United States Senate for the prevention of any further influx of paupers, criminals, and social wolves from European countries. The bill does not intend to bar the doors against any person coming here who wants to improve his condition, obey the laws of the country, and like an American, enjoy all the blessings and individual freedom that are possible in a land where land is cheaper, where wages are higher, and where good homes are more abundant than in any other country on the face of the earth.

In reviewing the question of immigration, The New York Tribune presents some facts and suggestions that are worthy of being studied closely. "If the tide of immigration were cut off short, it would take less than a century, according to the natural law of increase, to make the United States as thickly settled as Europe. It is not desirable to throw away our advantages. Since the enactment of the passenger act in 1851, and up to October 1, 1857, the number of actual immigrants into America was 14,266,750. Of these 5,325,394 have arrived since the war was ended. Undoubtedly our foreign population has been a source of wealth and strength to the Union. According to commonly accepted authorities their cash value upon landing cannot be fixed at less than $15,000,000. They have taken a great part in the country's progressive march, and most of them are full of American spirit.

"It is in their interest no less than in that of native-born citizens that the worthless and dangerous classes should be kept out. What proportion these bear to the whole body of emigrants cannot be accurately stated, but it is known that since 1852 the flow of paupers and fanatics has been startlingly great. Since then 5,890,416 immigrants have arrived. Only 619,152 of these have professed any trade. Over 2,500,000 have acknowledged themselves to be wholly without occupation, and nearly all of these are of race difficult of assimilation with an Anglo-Saxon people, deficient in intelligence, wanting in industry and purpose, and politically disengaged. The result of this dark tide among us is partially disclosed by the last census returns, which showed that they constituted nearly one-half the population of the houses of correction; more than one-fourth of the inmates, nearly one-fourth of the habitual criminals, and more than a third of the paupers.

"Such later returns as are available show a condition of things much worse. For instance, out of 63,229 committed paupers, 41,454 are of foreign birth; the foreign inmates actually confined in public institutions are about 58 per cent. of the total, while two-thirds of the criminal convictions in 1886 were of alien people. These figures, eloquent as they are, tell but a small part of the story of injury that is being done in America to labor, to the public morals and to the public treasury by reason of unrestricted immigration. Our consul reports from time to time with warnings to the government. Having had extensive opportunities of observing the Slovaks, the Bohemians, the Poles, the Russian Jews and such other races of Central and Southern Europe as supply these objectionable immigrants, our consuls implore the government for power to prevent their departure for America. This is the only way to cure the evil. It should be adopted promptly. America is willing over to remain the home of the oppressed and unfortunate, but it must not continue an asylum for vermin."

REPRESENTATION IN THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The next republican state convention will include the same number of delegates as the last, the representation being based on the vote for Blaine in 1884. That this is so is in accordance with a resolution adopted at the last convention. The counties will, then, be entitled to delegates as follows, one being allowed for every 500 votes for Blaine or major fraction thereof:

Adams	2 Abington	2
Ashland	2 Waukesha	2
Barron	3 Marquette	2
Bayfield	3 Milwaukee	2
Brown	2 Menominee	2
Buffalo	2 Oconto	2
Burnett	1 Outagamie	2
Columbia	1 Price	2
Chippewa	5 Polk	2
Clark	1 Pierce	2
Columbia	2 Portage	2
Dane	12 Price	2
Dodge	2 Racine	2
Douglas	1 Rock	2
Dunn	1 St. Croix	2
Faribault	1 Sawyer	2
Fond du Lac	1 Sheboygan	2
Grant	1 Waupaca	2
Green Lake	1 Trempealeau	2
Jackson	5 Vernon	2
Jessop	1 Washington	2
Jones	4 Washington	2
Keweenaw	2 Waukesha	2
Lake	2 Waukesha	2
La Crosse	2 Winona	2
Lafayette	2 Winona	2
Lake	2 Wood	2
Lincoln	2 Total	22

Keweenaw county, it will be seen, is second in the state in its representation in the convention, Milwaukee having 81 and Rock 12. Dane comes next with 12 votes. The total vote for Blaine in Rock county in 1884 was 6,266, just 16 more than were necessary to secure the thirteenth vote.

TILDEN EULOGIZED.

Banquet of the Kings County Democratic —Mr. Cleveland's Letter.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Among the guests at the banquet of the Kings County Democratic Club at Brooklyn last night in commemoration of the birthday of Samuel J. Tilden were Governor Hill, ex-Governor Abbot, of New Jersey, Secretary Vilas, Hon. Samuel J. Randall, and ex-Governor Roscoe, of Ohio. A formal address was made by a letter of regret from President Cleveland was read. In paying a tribute to Mr. Tilden's worth the President said:

"He taught the limitation of the Federal power under the constitution, the absolute necessity of public economy, and the duty of the government to be a public service, the responsibility of public servants to the people, care for those who poll with their hands, a proper limitation of personal privileges, and a reform in the civil service. His true Democracy, his desire to make the people really independent of him, and his conception of political duty he thought it never too early and never too late to give birth to vicious doctrines and corrupt practices. He believed that pure and simple Democracy, a government by the people and a honest administration by the friends of the people, and that it but feebly lived up to that, false pretences and fear. And he was right. His success proved him right and proved, too, that the American people appreciated a courageous struggle in their defense."

Roscoe Conkling once more announces that he is out of politics. He says: "I have not the faintest expectation of taking any part in the campaign of this year." It would seem from this that Mr. Conkling expects that Blaine will be the nominee.

PRELIMINARY MEASURES TAKEN.

NAME SEEN TO BE THEIR CHOICE FOR THE NOMINATION—LITTLE ATTENTION PAID TO THE SECOND PLACE—VIEWS ON THE TARIFF QUESTION.

PLANNED BY THE LEAD.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Except Mr. Conger of Ohio, every member of the sub-committee of the National Republican Committee having charge of the Presidential convention expressed a belief that his State favored Mr. Blaine's nomination. All demanded, however, that he should announce his position. Senator Sherman, Senator Allison, Robert Lincoln and General Sheridan were the most prominent of the candidates mentioned by the members of the committee. The Vice-President seemed to be in doubt.

With regard to the tariff question A. L. Conger of Ohio, said:

"If the Democrats make the campaign on any such platform as Cleveland's message the Republicans will carry my State by 40,000 majority. The Democrats are divided on the tariff question, but the Republicans are solidly in favor of a free-trade platform."

Ex-Senator Powell Clayton of Arkansas said:

"The Republicans are protectionists and the President's tariff reform bill would not change them. The West, the organ of the farmers' organization, is in favor of protection on many articles. I don't believe the tariff question will lose any former votes. The Democrats are not entirely solid on the revenue question, but I believe the protection Democrats will hold their party if it adopts a free-trade platform."

General G. A. Hobart, of New Jersey, said:

"New Jersey is for protection. Even the Democrats believe that protection comes within their State platform."

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—ought a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he uses Athlo-pheros, as it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way. It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them unable.

The skill of five physicians could not cure me of rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that I was almost impotent. The first dose of Athlo-pheros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep again. I am now well. Rev. S. H. TROYER,
